DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Newly submitted claims 19-26 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: the claims are directed to at least one of the non-elected species, species V (figure 8). Applicant had originally elected Species VIII (figure 11) for examination in paper No. 8.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 19-26 have been withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

3. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gschwendtner et al. 6,374,981.

Gschwendtner '981 discloses an escalator support structure per claimed invention comprising: a bottom and top landing supports (figures 1-3); and a rise interconnecting the bottom and top landing supports (figures 2 and 3), wherein the rise includes at least one module; the module comprises a steel plate or wall support sheets near an escalator machine (figures 3 and 8). Please note in figure 2, the supporting module comprises at least a steel sheet covering the entire supporting rise including an escalator machine. Said steel sheet presenting a continuous planar exterior surface.

4. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pallinger et al. 6,105,748.

Pallinger '748 discloses an escalator support structure per claimed invention comprising: a bottom and top landing supports (figures 1-4); and a rise interconnecting the bottom and top landing supports, wherein the rise includes at least one module. The module comprises a continuous planar steel sheet 7 covering the entire rise including an escalator machine.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gschwendtner et al. 6,374,981.

Gschwendtner discloses all elements per claimed invention as explained in paragraph 3 above, including a steel sheet module (4 & 5, figure 3) near an escalator machine. However, Gschwendtner did not explicitly state that the sheet module could be welded to other portions of the rise along the edges of said sheet.

It would have been obvious for a person with ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to have welded the edges of Gschwendtner's steel sheet to a portion of the rise because it facilitates the attachment of said steel sheet onto the rise instead of using bolts or screws. Welding technology is known in Gschwendtner's reference.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed on December 12, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Gschwendtner et al. 6,374,981 and Pallinger et al. 6,105,748 still anticipate the claimed invention as explained above.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
